1. INTRODUCTION

The aim of this policy is to enhance the internal controls over cash management, receipting and reconciliation and to provide policy guidelines on procedures and preferred practices designed to safeguard the receipt, recording and banking of cash.

This Policy sets out good business practices for handling cash and cash receipts. The establishment of strong internal controls for cash collections is necessary to prevent mishandling of funds and to safeguard against loss. All Departments that handle cash must have an awareness of, and show a commitment to, strong internal controls for cash management. All staff are responsible for establishing and maintaining the proper environment for internal controls.

Chapter 8 of the Municipal Finance Management Act, No 56 of 2003 requires municipalities to maintain an effective and efficient internal control over revenue management system. Section 64 of the Municipal Finance Management Act further requires;

- (a) That all money received is promptly deposited into the Municipality's primary and other bank accounts.
- (b) That the municipality has to maintain a management, accounting and information system which recognizes revenue when it is earned, accounts for debtors and accounts for receipts of revenue.

Section 95 (i) of Municipal Systems Act No. 32 of 2000 indicates that in relation to the levying of rates and other taxes by a municipality and the charging of fees for municipal services, a municipality must, within its financial and administrative capacity – provide accessible pay points and other mechanisms for settling accounts or for making pre-payments for services.

Section 96 (a) states that a municipality must collect all money that is due and payable to it.

2. SCOPE

This policy applies to all Departments and all staff whose duties involve receipting, handling and/or processing of cash and cash receipts of any type. It is the responsibility of each Cashier or official handling municipal cash and Head Cashier/Supervisor to Cashiers to ensure compliance with proper and sound control of cash within the guidelines set forth in this policy.

4. PURPOSE / OBJECTIVE OF THIS POLICY

The objective of this policy is to:

- Ensure that the principles and procedures for Cash Control are formalized.
- Provide guidance for employees that handle municipal cash and to document the course of action for employees who are found to be having cash surpluses and/or shortages.

- Ensure that municipal Cashiers and their supervisors exercise due diligence when receiving and receipting cash to ensure that the customer provides the full amount of payment required and the payment method is legal tender.
- Establish the responsibilities of each official in a given situation or for a given task i.e. segregation of duties.
- Ascertain that responsibility for related transactions should be divided i.e. isolation of responsibilities. Responsibility for a divisible transaction or a series of related transactions should be divided between individuals in such a manner that the work of one acts as a check on that of another.
- Certify that record keeping and custody should be separated. The Person who has access to or is responsible for an asset should not maintain the accounting record for that asset.
- Provide guarantees that personnel should be rotated. Whenever possible, employees should be rotated in their job assignments. An employee is less apt to be careless or to intentionally commit a wrong when he knows his action will likely be brought to light when job assignments are changed.
- Clearly document the key elements of Cash Control and Cash Management to be implemented within the jurisdiction of Mogale City Local Municipality and interventions to be implemented for non-compliance with the policy.

- To describe the steps to be taken when there is a cash shortage or surplus subsequent to a cashing up procedure at any cash taking point of the Municipality.

5. POLICY STATEMENT

Employees who handle municipal cash are expected to be honest, ethical and have integrity. They are expected to conduct the cash receipting and processing duties carefully and accurately and to balance their receipts each day without surpluses and/or shortages. The Municipality recognises the possibility of differences occurring from time to time, however, these occurrences should be minimal if cashiers and their supervisors exercise due care in carrying out their responsibilities.

10. THE CASH HANDLING PROCESS

Cash handling starts when cashiers verify the starting cash drawer amount (float) before each shift begins and continues as the cashiers rings up each customer payments/purchase. This most often involves selecting specific register keys that identify the department or departments/accounts followed by entering the purchase/payment/receipt amount.

From there, specific procedures depend on whether a cash-out takes places during the day or at the end of a shift. For example, while a mid-shift cash-out might only consist of a cash count, total sales and adjustments, including payouts, over and under-rings may be read and reconciled at the end of each shift and at day's end.

At closing or the following morning, reconciliation information for each cashier and each register is then further combined into a daily sales recap report. Reconciliation of cash includes the reconciliation by Bookkeepers.

10.1 CASH FLOAT

Cash float cannot be used for any reason other than its purpose and must be available for counting (including during surprise checks) separately from the cashier's daily takings.

10.1.1 Each Cashier must have an equal amount of cash float;

10.1.2 Cashiers must change their cash floats into small denominations to enable ease of giving change.

10.1.3 Cash float is additional cash thus will always be counted separately from the cashier's daily takings to ensure that it is all there.

10.1.4 Senior Official/Head Cashier must do unannounced cash float counting as regularly as possible.

10.1.5 Only cashiers will have keys to cash float drawers;

10.1.6 Cashiers are solely responsible for any shortages/surpluses in the cash float boxes;

10.1.7 Head Cashiers/Senior Officials have the authority to count any Cashier's float at any given time of the day/week/month;

10.1.8 Cashiers should report and pay in immediately any shortage in their cash float drawers, but should report and bank any surpluses;

10.1.9 Cashiers must sign for the cash float they use and be responsible for the drawers and the keys;

10.2 MID - SHIFT CASH – OUTS

Mid-shift cash-out procedures work to improve security controls by removing excess money from registers and depositing it in a more secure location. A mid-shift cash-out also works to discourage employee theft and limits the amount of money that could be lost in the event of a robbery.

Procedures most often bring the register back down to its starting amount. Both the cashier and supervisor participate, with one responsible for counting the money and the other responsible for serving as a witness or verifier.

The amount of the cash drop - or cash drops on a busy day is recorded and reconciled during the post-shift cash-out process.

10.3 POST - SHIFT CASH RECONCILIATION

Full cash reconciliation at the end of each shift balances the register and reveals any cash discrepancies. Cash, credit card receipts and amounts from mid-shift cash drops are entered on a post-shift cash reporting check-out sheet. Once complete, the check-out sheet is compared against the financial system report and the cash to verify whether the amounts are the same.

Discrepancies most often require a cash recount to find out if the discrepancy is simply the result of a miscount. Even a minor discrepancy is serious, regardless of whether the discrepancy is a surplus or a shortage. It indicates carelessness or, in some cases, can point to employee theft.

10.4 VOIDING/CANCELLATION OF RECEIPTS/PREPAID VENDING VOUCHERS

10.4.1 Receipts may only be cancelled if a receipt for the same amount is issued directly after, no refunds may be done at the time of receipt cancellation by a cashier to a client except in exceptional cases provided that approval is obtained from an official that is Senior to the Head Cashier. Refunds must be requested for repayment through a payment requisition at the Expenditure per normal payment standard procedures.

10.4.2 Cancellation/Voiding of receipts may only be done by the Head Cashier or Supervisor responsible for the cash balancing function.

10.4.3 Cancellation/Voiding of receipts/prepaid vending vouchers/tickets must be done in the presence of the affected customer and the customer must be requested to co-sign the incident report and provide full name, ID and phone number.

10.4.4 If a prepaid sale is voided/cancelled on the financial system it must also be voided on the vending system Head Cashier and vice versa.

10.4.5 The original copy of cancelled receipt must be filed with the particular day's cash received support documentation.

10.4.6 Both the Cashier and the Head Cashier or supervisor voiding the receipt must sign the voided receipt with a short explanation. The original copy of the voided receipt should remain in the receipt book.

10.4.6 An incident report form must be completed in full giving details of the reason for the cancellation/voiding with supporting documents and signed by the Cashier, Head Cashier, Senior Accountant, Assistant Manager and Manager as well as the affected customer as far as possible.

10.4.7 The information of all cancelled receipts must be captured into a cancelled receipts register on the same day that the receipts were cancelled.

10.4.8 The person performing the daily balancing function must verify this register for completeness on a daily basis.

10.4.9 Cancellations due to negligence from the cashier should be reported and verified by the Senior Accountant or Senior official.

11. CASH SHORTAGES AND SURPLUSES MANAGEMENT

A cash shortage most often results from capturing receipts/purchases or counting cash incorrectly upon receipt. For the most part, these discrepancies arise as a result of employees making simple mistakes and not catching them in time. Errors may also occur in making change and other cash transactions that result in cash shortages or surpluses. For these reasons, cash shortage most often require an immediate investigation to determine, if possible, the reason for the shortage. A comparison of the cash received per financial system and cash count can uncover the source of an error. When errors or negligence occurs and the cash handling performance is not within established guidelines, the appropriate action should be taken to correct the behavior or performance and get compliance. Any employee experiencing an unresolved cash shortage must report the exact sum of any cash deficit to his/her department head or supervisor at the close of each business day.

Each shortage or surplus must be investigated by the Cashier and Head Cashier. Whenever warranted by the size of the shortage, the Cashier, then Head Cashier, then Senior Accountant, then Bookkeeper should conduct a thorough attempt to determine the reason for the shortage or surplus. The review might include recounting the cash, reviewing all transactions for the period, and checking the amounts of all checks and debit cards to ensure that the receipts were written for the correct amounts.

The procedures to be followed in the case of shortages will be based on the nature and amount of the shortage as outlined below:

11.1 The cashier is liable to immediately pay on the day of the shortage or by no later than the following day before banking is done, any amount that amounts to one hundred rand (R100) or less.

11.2 The cashier will also be liable to pay within one month of any shortage that is more than one hundred rands (R100,00) but not more than five hundred rands (R500,00) either in cash or through the immediate completion of a salary deduction authorization form.

11.3 The cashiers will be liable to pay any shortage amounts in excess of five hundred rands (R500) within (two) 2 months either in cash or through the immediate completion of a salary deduction authorization form.

11.4 The cashier must report and bank any cash surpluses on the day of the surplus.

11.5 All cashier shortages/surpluses must be reported and explained in an incident report per shortage or surplus incident and a monthly shortages and surpluses register must be compiled by the Head Cashier to be submitted to the Manager for all cashier surpluses and shortages for the month.

11.6 First Verbal Warning:
