DEPUTY MINISTER BULELANI MAGWANISHE TO HOST A BACK TO SCHOOL PROGRAMME IN MOGALE CITY

The Deputy Minister of Public Enterprises, Bulelani Magwanishe, will help learners in the Mogale City Local Municipality kick start the new school year on a high note when he hosts a back to school programme. The event will be held in Magaliesburg on 21 January 2017.

This is part of the 2030 NDP Back to School national programme by government. The intervention seeks to prioritise education as a means to transform the lives of young South Africans for the better.

To this end, such interventions have since led to continuous improvements in the education system as reflected in the steady increase in the overall matric pass rate.

In addition, State Owned Companies such as Eskom, Transnet, SA Express, Denel, Safcol and Alexkor will exhibit at the event to showcase SOC career and skills development opportunities available to learners.

As identified by the local schools in Magaliesburg, learners from poor backgrounds will receive school uniform and dignitary packs. The local schools will each receive 10 math dictionaries for their libraries. This is in an effort to improve the quality of learning and teaching in schools.
